TORONTO TIDINGS

Miss Marion Powell and her sister were up at Jackson's Point for a few days lately.

Owing to daylight saving, time the Epworth League went into recess on May 14th, when it held its last meeting until it reopens again in October next.

Mr. Peter McDougall went down to Oshawa to visit his brother, Michael, at the Missionary College of that city, on Mother's Day and had a good time.

Mrs. A. W. Mason had the honor of being the first in leading a Sunday School class since the ladies were asked to help in this good work, and on May 17th Mrs. Mason gave a very instructive address on the great conversion and humiliation of King Saul. She made a splendid hit.

Mr. Peter McDougall was much pleased to receive a return visit from his brother, Michael, of Oshawa, on May 17th.

As the Typographical Union of printers has ceased paying out strike money to those who went out three years ago, we learn that Mr. George W. Reeves has secured a position with a job printing firm down in the heart of the city.

Mr. A. A. McIntosh, of Oakville, was in the city lately, combining business with pleasure.

Messrs. T. W. Hacking and William Tate, of Hamilton, were renewing old acquaintances with friends here over the week end of May 16th. Mr. Tate's parental home is in Port Hope, but he now works in the "Ambitious City."

Mr. Lewis Ireland, of Acton, was down to see his many friends here over Sunday, May 17th.

Four young mothers, who came to the platform at our Church on Mother's day with their smiling and cooing youngsters, were each presented by Mrs. A. W. Mason with lovely flowers, as symbolic of the day.

Mrs. Harry Mason has been up on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. John Dean in Nobleton for a couple weeks.

Mr. Harry E. Grooms treated the goodly-turn out to our service on Sunday, May 17th, to a splendid sermon on what we should do to please God. He who works for his friend in a spirit of love or speaks most gratefully of the same is sure to please our Master. Mrs. Walter Bell rendered an appropriate hymn.

The Misses Pearl Hermon, Lillian Bell, Lillian Casey and Catherine Hardy, and Mr. Jameison Bell took a trip by boat to Hamilton on May 17th, and then by electric car through the blossom laden, perfumed air of—Niagara peninsula—the Garden of Canada and report having seen a never to be forgotten paradise in all its fragrance and charm.

Mr. Chester Pickard was out to Niagara Falls for a week lately, trying to pick up a position as a printer, but found none available. Mr. and Mrs. Pickard will shortly move from Dunforth Avenue to the flat above the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goodall.

Our soft ball team has entered the Western Section of the Toronto Interchurch League, and they were to have played their first scheduled game on May 13th, against the St. Stephens, but having not been given sufficient notice in time, this fixture was cancelled. However they are to play every Tuesday evening on diamond No. 3, at Bickford Ravine, off Bloor St. West (South Side), and on May 19th, there was a keenly contested struggle between our team and the Dufferins, in which the latter triumphed by a score of 7 to 6. As the score indicates, it was a close contest. Our battery was David Lawrence and Lorenzo Malola and David had a tendency to wildness in the beginning, but gradually steadied down. A. Forrester at first base and W. Wilmott in centre field provided the fielding features. There was a good turn out of spectators.

A very pleasant surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Watt, in honor of their natal day. By a strange coincidence, Mr. and Mrs. Watt were born on the same day, May 17th, but as it fell on Sunday this year, the affair came off on May 19th, and nearly forty were present. Miss Carrie Brethour got up this treat, and all voted it a grand success. The party broke up at midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Watt were warmly congratulated.

Our boys of the postal service, who were called up in April, to try their examinations on laws and regulations, received word on May 14th, from Ottawa, that they cleared the top with honors.

There is at least one person in Canada, who has found the JOURNAL to be of great value in more ways than one, and this very person is now a happy soul. Over fifty-five years ago, in the little hamlet of Leamington, snugly nestled in the primeval forests of Essex Co., there lived two little rosy cheeked, curly headed girls. One was Mary Land, now Mrs. W. G. Bell, of Moose Jaw, Sask., and the other was Fanny Lewis, now Mrs. A. W. Mason, of this city. They went to church and Sunday school together, and soon formed a friendship, but in a few years Dan Cupid invaded their social arena, and soon these two maidens bright and fair were obliged to part from each other, and leave the vortex of their childhood scenes and assume more important roles in fields afar. And since that time they had never heard of each other, and one thinking the other had crossed the bar, until Mrs. Bell noticed in the JOURNAL that Mrs. Mason was still alive.

Since the death of Mrs. Mason's mother, the former has received a great many messages of sympathy, and of these this one from Mrs. Bell will surely interest many. Here it is in part: "Since taking the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, I have noticed your name mentioned, and just recently the report of your mother's death. In her death you have my sincere sympathy. Now you will wonder, who this is taking such a liberty to write to you. Well, you'll have to go back in memory to your old home in Leamington before you were married and then perhaps you may recollect me as going with you to church and Sabbath School. Mary Land was my name. My mother died when I was a little girl, and my aunt looked after me. I can never forget you, because you were the first deaf person I ever met, and cannot forget how patiently you went to church and Sunday School when not able to hear, and this I have often mentioned to my husband. I did not know you were still in the land of the living till I found out through the good old JOURNAL. I was all ways deaf in one ear, and at thirteen I lost the organ of the other. When twenty I started for the School for the Deaf at Columbus, Ohio, and on my graduation I was married to W. G. Bell, a graduate of the Michigan School for the Deaf, of Flint. He is a successful carpenter and we have been living in Moose Jaw for twenty years. At one time there were many deaf living here, but now most of them have scattered. Yours sincerely, Mrs. W. G. Bell."

Both Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Bell are hale and hearty, though up in years, and hope they will enjoy many more years of health and happiness as they hear the Great Trumpeter's clarion call, "My children, come to rest."

WATERLOO CO. WEE BITS.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moynihan and daughter, Beverly, have returned from their sojourn in Toronto, loud in praise of the good time they had.

Mr. Allen Nahrang, of Kitchen, was a guest of Mr. John A. Moynihan in Waterloo on a recent Sunday.

A little girl came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Martin, of Waterloo, on May 12th. Both are doing well. This is their second child and both are girls. Congratulations.

Miss Mary Bull, of Bloomingdale, was a guest of the Moynihans in Waterloo over the week-end of May 16th.

The Moynihan family, of Waterloo, have acquired about half an acre of land for a garden just across the street from their home, and intend putting in any kind of vegetable they can lay their hands on.

GENERAL GLEANINGS.

There was a good attendance at the Sunday meeting in Aurora, on May 17th, when Mr. John T. Shilton, of Toronto, gave two splendid addresses. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jones, of Pulgrave, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baird, of Breton, motored over for the meeting.

On their way home to Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. William Quinlan stopped over for a couple of days to visit old friends in Hamilton recently.

The mother of Mr. John Maynard is still very ill at her home in Uxbridge, and our friend Jack is still with her.

HERBERT W. ROBERTS.

GREENSBURG, PA.

The ten year old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John F. V. Long, of Youngwood, peacefully passed away at the Westmoreland Hospital Friday morning, May 8th, following an illness about a month with meningitis. Interment was made on the 11th inst. The young chap was unusually bright, greatly beloved by those of his friends in the community in which he resided.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, of Wilkinsburg, contemplate moving up this way about the first part in June, where the former has good position with the Greensburg Tribune Review Publishing Company. The couple are quite a welcome addition to our silent colony here.

A big delegation from this County, it's definitely understood, will participate in an alumni dance to be held in the gymnasium of Edgewood School for the Deaf, on Memorial evening. This affair will be for the benefit of the bi-annual reunion during the Fall of 1926.

"Rex's" nephew, of Los Angeles, and but recently a graduate, of Leland Stanford University, in California, is touring several foreign countries of Europe, where he will spend several months combining business with pleasure. He afterwards will matriculate at Howard University in the Autumn. What he intends to do, upon his graduation, we are unable to know.

Mrs. James T. Poole, of Hunker, was a shopping visitor in Greensburg.

Roy Nordstrom, employed in Henry Company's Commercial and Job Printing plant, comes to work every morning and returns to his new home in Latrobe every evening. We infer that he likes his new home a great deal better than where he has boarded in town several years.

"Big Jim" Princler and "Sporty Russ" Diehl, great pals, are cycling motoring together most of the time.

We admit that Mr. Diehl is quite an expert in the art of dancing. He is needed at the coming alumni dance at Edgewood School, so we are informed.

"Alderman Philip" Gittens was given a reduction of 15 per cent in his wages not long since by the Keystone Coal Company. It is undoubtedly due to the slackness of business at this time. Philip is lucky, because he does work every day, notwithstanding his reduced wages.

Fred Haley, of Jeannette, has been out of work for several months, owing to the fact that the Fort Pitt Glass Factory has had to shut down, due to lack of orders.

The general health of our silent community is good, so far as we can learn at this time.

Our missionary, Rev. Franklin C. Smielau, comes here monthly to preach to our silent flocks. His services are ever instructive and interesting.

THE FRATS ANNIVERSARY DINNER.

Atlanta Div. No. 28, N. F. S. D., celebrated its 15th anniversary on May 7th, with an elaborate dinner at Peacock Cafe, Five Points, with sixty-seven deaf and quite a number of hearing friends present, among whom was ex-Mayor Key, who perhaps, many visiting frats will remember as being our Major during the 1921 convention. Mr. Key has been a staunch friend of the deaf of this city for many years, and never fails to attend all of our important gatherings and enjoys himself by remaining with us throughout the entire entertainment.

The dinner was excellent and plentiful. In fact it was as good as any $5.00 per plate spread that we have had occasion to attend in the past. The menu consisted of:

Grape Fruit	Celery and Olives
Roast Chicken with Dressing
Early June Peas	Creamed Potatoes
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
Ice Cream	Cake
	Coffee

After the repast cigars and cigarettes were handed around to the men and candy to the ladies, after which speeches were started, and the rest of the evening was turned into an old-fashioned "love feast."

Mr. L. B. Dickerson, acting as Toastmaster, opened with a few remarks, calling special attention to the wide difference between the first anniversary dinner and the present one. The first one was held four years ago at the old Felson Cafe, which was situated where the Fourth National Bank building now stands, which place Tom Jordan, a frat, was Steward for many years. At this dinner women were excluded, as they were at several succeeding ones. It was not until several years later that women were allowed to participate in these affairs. (Why it was thus ye scribe has never been able to understand). Mr. Dickerson said if they were to have a history of past achievements of the Atlanta Division written, it would fill several volumes. After reading several letters and telegrams of congratulation, he introduced ex-Mayor Key, the first speaker of the evening.

Mr. Key made a nice talk extolling the Atlanta deaf as good citizens, whose friendship he valued very highly and always enjoyed being with them, and a great deal more to the same effect. His speech was interpreted by Mrs. M. M. Simmons.

The next speaker introduced was Rev. S. M. Freeman, who delivered the principal address of the evening. His subject was "N. F. S. D.—A Powerful Organization." Mr. Freeman said in part:

This Society is one of the most powerful organizations in the world beyond question. This assertion is substantiated by the facts. Let me cite two of them. With a membership barely approaching 6000, the assets are given as $630,000.00 and the liabilities the paltry sum of $3900. The ratio of solvency is now 145.79 of all outstanding benefits. No insurance company can equal this showing. On this account a period of high mortality due to an epidemic could safely be passed, without any increase in cost to the members.

There was a time not long ago when this Society was ridiculed and even denounced as a fraud. Its failure was a foregone conclusion, according to the leading lights of the American deaf. The members were urged to run for cover. But today, behold, because of its financial soundness and its power for good, those same traducers are tumbling over each other in their haste to reap the advantages and benefits which members only can enjoy. They can well profit by the following story of the old stage driver:

As the stage coach rumbled along, the driver drew back his arm, sent the long, wicked, lash of his whip flying through the air and flipped a grasshopper from a leaf beside the road, and the leaf did not stir. A hundred yards farther on a horse fly lighted on the ear of one of the leaders. Then the long lash whistled through the air, nipped the fly, and the horse did not even wiggle his ear. A few minutes later the stage passed a hornet's nest suspended from a bough, with a lone hornet crawling across the rotund surface of the nest.

"Let's see you flick that hornet off his nest," urged a passenger. But the driver merely gathered up his reins and the stage rolled on in silence.

"Why not hit the hornet?" asked another passenger.

"Stranger," replied the man of the whip, "a grasshopper is a grasshopper, and a horse-fly is a horse-fly, but a hornet is an organization."

"Our Division" was the next subject handled, President Willingham of the Frats being the speaker.

He spoke of the growth of the Atlanta Division from its founding to the present time, recounting many interesting incidents that has taken place in the life of the division during the past fifteen years. He told of sending delegates to the Philadelphia convention to invite them to hold their next one at Atlanta, the securing of same and the work done to make the 1921 Atlanta convention the great success it was. He related many other worth-while things the Atlanta frats have done, but space forbids repeating them.

Next followed Mr. Ross A. Johnson with the "Atlanta Spirit" as his subject. He told how Atlanta was "always ahead," and that the deaf as well as their hearing brethren were first to put any important movement undertaken "over the top," and that Atlanta deaf, while small in number, were always first in everything that was started, and held a record that is hard to beat. We have not Mr. Johnson's notes else we would give his address in full.

Mr. J. R. Bankston followed Mr. Johnson with "Loyalty," and urged his hearers to continue to be loyal to their division, their homes, religion and societies, and to be loyal Atlanta citizens. He said that it was the loyalty of the members of the Atlanta division that had enabled the division to thrive and prosper as it had.

The next and last address of the evening was "The Nadfrats," which was a telling address for women's work in the deaf world of affairs. Mrs. W. W. McLean, president of the Nadfrats said in part:

"In Atlanta was launched the first civic club of deaf women in America to affiliate with a State Federation of Women's Clubs, totaling four thousand clubs with a membership of 50,000 women. The 1921 convention of the N. F. S. D. held in Atlanta was one of the best the society has ever held, and this was partly due to the untiring work of the Nadfrat Club. It was the first time in the history of the Society that the women took such a prominent part in the convention and made a social success that it was, paying special attention to the entertainment of the visitors. When the proceedings of the convention were published in the "Frat" a picture of the Nadfrats was among other convention photographs, and this was said to be the first time a woman's picture ever appeared in this paper."

The Nadfrats have recently started a campaign to raise a "building fund" with which to erect a Club House of their own. A firm of Real Estate agents have promised to donate to our club a plot of land on which to build. Every member of the Nadfrats is now busy planning ways and means of raising the necessary money for this project, and, if our dreams come true, we hope within a year or two to see the walls of our club house—our very own—rising like the sun to gladden our hearts. If we succeed the Nadfrat Women's Club of Atlanta will be the first and only civic club of deaf women in America to own club house.

After promising the Atlanta Frats that the Nadfrats would continue to work wholeheartedly, shoulder to shoulder with them in all that was for the welfare of the deaf, not only in Atlanta, Georgia and the South, but for these of every clime. Mrs. McLean closed her address by reciting the club's poem as follows:

"We build our club with years of work
Like stones that make a wall,
And with our work come happiness
And vine-like covers all."

If we attempted to relate all the good things that the Atlanta division have done as related by various volunteer speakers, it would take all the space in this newspaper, sufficient it is therefore, to say that the 15th anniversary dinner of the Atlanta Division, No. 28, N. F. S. D., will go down in history as one of the most brilliant and pleasing affairs ever held in Atlanta. Everybody went home happy and singing the praise of Atlanta Division, No. 28, and wishing them many more birthdays, each one better than the last. The N. F. S. D., like Mr. Freeman remarked, is a "Powerful organization."

The deaf of the United States certainly owe much to Francis P. Gibson, whose business acumen and loyalty to the organization is mainly due its wonderful growth and high financial standing it has today. It is due mostly to him that it is "a powerful organization."

When the Boys in Blue are Gone

When the comrades have departed,
When the veterans are no more.
When the bugle call has sounded
On that everlasting shore;
When life's weary research is ended,
When the camp fires slumber long,
Who will tell the world the story
When the Boys in Blue are gone?

Who will tell about the marching
"From Atlanta to the Sea,"
Who will halt, and wait, and listen,
When they hear the reveille,
Who will join to swell the chorus
Of some old Grand Army song,
Who will tell the world the story
When the Boys in Blue are gone?

Who will tell of Appomattox,
And the glory that they won;
When defeat was on their banner,
Who will tell about Bull Run;
What in prison pen they suffered,
How they watched and waited long,
Who will tell the world the story
When the Blue and Gray are gone?

A Plea for Help from Across the Ocean to the Deaf and the Friends of the Deaf in America

Not until the beginning of the last century awoke people in Norway to see their deaf and dumb fellow-men's miserable circumstances.

Up to that time these did not get the least education, and the consequence was that they were not able to be of any use for their country, their fellowmen and themselves. That is why they nearly always were regarded to be inferior persons.

But with the coming of the 19th century their circumstances suddenly changed. In 1825 the first deaf and dumb school of the country was established in Trondhjem, and since several others followed. Some of them are closed again, but today we have four such schools in our country. Here the deaf and dumb get some knowledge of the many issues of life and are taught a handicraft. Thus they become independent members of our society.

Much is done for the deaf-mutes but they are not yet co-ordinated with us and cannot hear. Among many things I will only say that which is nearest to my heart. The opportunity for the deaf ones to an edifying Christian life by "hearing" the word of God is very small.

Other people have now in many centuries had an opportunity to listen to Christ's gospel every Sunday in our churches, but the deaf in our country were not able to do so before 1890, up to which time they lived their Christian life only with the knowledge they derived from school about God and the Christ.

They were able to read in the Bible, but with their limited stock of words, they could not understand all they read. It is necessary for us, who can hear, to have the meaning of the Bible explained, how much more necessary will it be for the deaf!

For a long time this point was disregarded, but about 1890 there came a change. The now well-known clergyman for the deaf, pastor Conrad Snuesson, began then with the aid of public contributions to visit the deaf in the different parts of the country and to hold services with them. In the beginning he was only able to visit them once in 5 years, but now, there being several clergymen, the deaf are able to "hear" the Word of God at least once a year. Now all must admit that a service once a year is rather little, it is therefore my aim in my district to hold at least two services in that time, and in the more central places there ought to be at least four services in a year.

That is why I thought to erect a deaf-church in Trondhjem, and in that church we must try to assemble the deaf several times in the run of a year.

Then it will only be necessary for me to visit the aged ones, the sick and those who were prevented from coming to a church meeting in Trondhjem, and in this way I shall be better able to serve the deaf in the northern parts of Norway.

A church building in Trondhjem will of course be of most profit to the deaf in that city and its neighborhood, and in the part of the year I can serve them—i. e., about 5 months, they will have services quite as regular as other people. But I think it is only just to try to collect contributions for this church building all over the country and even from our brethren in America.

All from the beginning it was our aim to collect the means necessary in order to have the little church ready built to this year, 1925, the centennial of the erection of our land's first deaf-school in Trondhjem, an anniversary we celebrated a short time ago.

The church will be built entirely to meet the exigencies of the deaf. The light will be good; the pews will be arranged amphitheatrically.

For the erection of our little church building, we have on hand about Kr. 30000 00, but we want still a sum of about Kr. 40000 00, or about $26,500.

Hoping that some of the deaf and the friends of the deaf in America will sympathize with our cause, we take the liberty to ask your help to gain our end; a little deaf-church at Trondhjem—erected in 1925, a hundred years after the erection of the first deaf-school in Norway (viz that of Trondhjem).

If you will answer our petition, we shall be thankful for having the contributions placed at disposal of our clergyman by August 1st, this year.

Contributions may be sent to him directly, or to the editor of this paper.

The receipt for the contributions will be sent by return of post, certified by the chief of the Trondhjem police.

On behalf of the congregation of the deaf at Trondhjem,
Yours respectfully,

OLAV RUSTOD,

Address: Nyveien 12, Trondhjem, Norway.

NEW JERSEY

The New Jersey Silent A. C., having formed a baseball nine again this season, pried off the lid on the diamond in an inauspicious manner. On Sunday, May 3d, the mutes lost a game to the Schuyler's Stars at Kearny, N. J., by the score of 13 to 9. Lefty Borgese, after holding the hearing team scoreless for three innings, suddenly lost his control and walked many batters.

He was scored upon for five runs in fourth inning and relieved in the next by Allen, who fared no better, being hit hard. The Silent nine had a lead of 7-0 in the first two innings.

Score by innings:

N. J. S. A. C.	4	3	0	1	0	1	0	0	9	12	4
Schuyler's Stars	0	0	5	5	0	2	1	x	13	12	3

On the following Saturday, May 9th, the Silent team travelled to Cedar Grove, N. J., but went down to an 18 to 4 defeat at the hands of the Overbrook Hospital nine. The mutes performed minus the services of four regulars, who were on the injured list.

Score by innings:

N. J. S. A. C.	0	1	1	0	1	0	0	—	4	7	6
Overbrook	0	3	1	0	6	2	4	x	13	22	1

Batteries: Allen, E. Doyle and B. Doyle; Graham and Wilson.

On Sunday, May 17th, the Skeeters, with a full regular line-up, scored their first win of the season, when they defeated the Bushwick A. C. in Newark, N. J., by an 8-6 score. Lefty Borgese showed a reversal form in the box, twirling great ball until the eighth inning, when he was spiked in the knee, sliding to second base, and after a vain effort to resume pitching, he was forced to leave the game. It was his big day at bat. His two home runs played a big part in the victory. Both Ben Shafraevsk and Stanley Lunski made their debut with the mutes, giving a good account of themselves in the field and at bat. Ben rang off a single and a double. Tom Lynam, the mutes' six-foot first baseman, was the heavy swat-smith with a double and a triple.

Score by innings:

N. J. S. A. C.	0	0	1	0	0	0	3	1	—	8	12	3
Bushwick	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	6	—	6	7	5

Batteries: R. Borgese, Allen and B. Doyle; Lee and Pierce.

The N. J. Silent A. C. is ready to meet any team which seeks an attraction at any picnic or outing. All communications should be addressed to Manager Bernard Doyle, 288 Ridgewood Avenue, Newark.

WITH a view to reducing the large and needless waste occasioned by careless addressing of mail matter, Postmaster General New has directed that an intensive educational campaign be waged during the first week in June, to assure better mailing practices and to divert to constructive channels millions now lost, principally through carelessness.

The Department already has been assured the co-operation in this endeavor of many of the nation's large mail users and of business, civic, and fraternal organizations. Twelve thousand moving picture theatres will run the Department's slogans urging greater care in addressing, and it is hoped that newspapers generally will take part by disclosing to their readers the extent of the waste and the way in which it may be eliminated.

Gallaudet's Birthday

TO BE CELEBRATED ON SATURDAY, JUNE 6TH, AT THE HOME FOR AGED DEAF.

On Saturday, June 6th, the anniversary of the birth of Thomas Gallaudet will be celebrated at the Home for Aged and Infirm Deaf-Mutes, at Camelot, N. Y.

The train leaves the Grand Central Station at 6:40 Standard Time, which is 7:40 Daylight Saving Time. The return will be made on the train which leaves Camelot at a few minutes after three (Daylight Saving Time).

All deaf-mutes are cordially invited to visit the Home on the occasion.

Trains stop at the Harlem station, Yonkers, etc., both going and returning.

REV. JOHN H. KENT will spend several weeks in England and Scotland this summer, whither he goes to study conditions and methods of religious missions to the adult deaf, and to attend the British Triennial Congress at Southampton in the first week of September. He goes as a delegate from the Church Mission to Deaf-Mutes.

Memorial Day.

How bright are the honors which await those who, with sacred fortitude and patriotic patience, have endured all things that they might save their native land from division and from the power of corruption. The honored dead! They that die for a good cause are redeemed from death. Their names are gathered and garnered. Their memory is precious. Each place grows proud for them who were born there. There is to be, ere long, in every village, and in every neighborhood, a glowing pride in its martyred heroes. Tablets shall preserve their names. Pious love shall renew their inscriptions as time and the unfeeling elements efface them. And the national festivals shall give multitudes of precious names to the orator's lips. Children shall grow up under more sacred inspirations, whose elder brothers, dying nobly for their country, left a name that honored and inspired all who bore it.

Every mountain and hill shall have its treasured name, every river shall keep some solemn title, every valley and every lake shall cherish its honored register; and till the mountains are worn out, and the rivers forget to flow, till the clouds are weary of replenishing springs, and the springs forget to gush, and the rills to sing, shall their names be kept fresh with reverent honors which are inscribed upon the book of National Remembrance.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Industrial Education

Industrial education for the deaf is fully as important as literary education. The latter is of little use as a means of making a living unless supplemented by the former. A well rounded education for the deaf requires technical training in some chosen trade of the highest degree. Falling to acquire this his education is a failure. Vocational education is an essential element of all education, and it is in harmony with the progress of educational thought and practice in the departments of education. This broad-minded administration of the public schools is now being experienced in the high schools of towns and cities, as witness their splendid manual training departments and highly paid instructors. The deaf youth stands in greater need of just this kind of training than does his hearing brother.—Dr. J. L. Smith.

Married.

Miss Mary Martha Price and Mr. Keith Scott were united in marriage on the Fourth day of May, at the home of the bride's mother, in Middlebury, Vt. Mr. Keith Scott is a son of the late Colin A. Scott, Professor of Psychology at Holyoke College. Mr. Keith Scott received his B.S. degree from Connecticut Agricultural College, and now has a poultry farm in Groton, Mass., to which the young couple repaired after a short motor trip. Mrs. Scott attended the Clark School for the Deaf in Northampton, Mass.

DETROIT.

The first, and we may add most successful entertainment of the year was given by the Detroit Division, No. 2, N. F. S. D., May 16th, despite the inclement weather. Rain and lightning was at its height. A large and enthusiastic crowd showed up. The names upon the programme were of persons well known to the Detroit and suburbs. "Yankee Doodle" was rendered in the sign language by Miss Swanson and Mr. De Champlain, of Flint, Mich. The encore were so tremendous, that the sweltering couple had to repeat it over again.

"A Century of Peace," and "We'll never let our old flag fall," were dramatically recited by Mrs. Alex. Lobsinger. Mrs. Lobsinger is a Canadian, so to give a good impression as to what flag she meant, she was dressed in a very becomingly in a dress made of both the American and Canadian flags. She made a decided hit with the audience.

Prof. F. N. Kauffman then held the audience spellbound, by giving the true story of Gen. Lafayette. Mr. Oren De Champlain rendered the touching poem of "Mother O' Mine," amid applause mingled with tears.

Mr. Asa Stutsman kept the audience in great mirth with his comical stories. Funny stunts were also given by Mr. Geo. Tripp, Mr. Kauffman and Mr. De Champlain.

The proceeds of the entertainment go to the M. A. D. Convention. If you have not received any intimation of the coming Michigan Reunion, don't blame the officers. They probably have failed to get your address. Write to Sec'y E. M. Brietel, Michigan School for Deaf, Flint, Michigan. For the benefit of outsiders, a charge of $1.00 per day will be made for lodging and Board for every one attending.

The cost of the banquet and ball is left to the executive committee to decide. Announcement will be made later. The proceeds go to finance the Detroit Division Frats, at the unveiling of a tablet, which tells to the world the fact that the great benevolent organization of the deaf was laid and hatched within the very walls of the Michigan School for the Deaf.

Peter Hellers, chairman of the entertainment, also desires that all Detroit Frats and outside Frats should wear their division Frats' caps. White caps will be worn by wives and widows of members.

DATES OF M. A. D. CONVENTION

June 11—(Evening) Opening of the Convention.
June 12—Business Sessions and Entertainment.
June 13—Business Session (Forenoon.) Unveiling Exercises (Afternoon.) Banquet (Evening).
June 14—Religious Services.
June 15—Home Again.

Walter Bednarek, who has been employed in the Blue room of the Detroit Lumber Co. for several years, met with an almost serious injury. A sliver was run into his hand, which caused infection. For six weeks he has had his arm in a sling. At the present writing the injured hand is healing splendidly.

Under the able management of Mrs. R. H. McLachlan, the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Stenzel was held Saturday, May 9th, at St. John's Parish House. It was in the form of a surprise party, which the members of the Ladies' Guild had arranged for the popular couple.

Harry Maul, only son of Mrs. Maul, returned home from Chicago. He has been working with his father since last November. He will make his home with his mother in the future. His father is a hearing man and prefers Chicago to Detroit.

Albert Seiss, of Pontiac, Mich., who is employed at the Oakland Motor Co., is a weekly visitor at the D. A. D., although he is a non-resident member of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol. Rubin are to spend a two weeks' vacation in Chicago. Mr. Rubin has been an employee at the Cadillac Motor Co. for three years.

Mrs. Pearl Gatton has secured employment at the American Body Co. Her many friends rejoice in her good luck.

Mr. Leon French has been under the weather with a severe attack of pneumonia. Up to date, he is reported to be on the road to recovery. The N. F. S. D. sick committee are seeing that he don't need anything.

Ovel Holly, a young fellow from Covington, Ky., has secured work at the Ford River Rouge Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay Bechum have returned to Detroit again. Mr. Bechum has secured work at the Detroit Lumber Co. Mrs. Bechum is a product of Kentucky, and her liege lord is from Illinois.

Cyrus Socholski has just returned from a trip of several months in the sunny South.

Mr. George MacDonald is another new arrival. Hails from Flint. Working at the American Body Co. George Trine, who has been sojourning in several States, arrived in Detroit from St. Louis, Mo., hopes to secure work here soon.

A joint meeting of the D. A. D.

Ladies' Auxiliary was held Sunday. Details later.

Don't forget the outing in June. N. F. S. D. Annual excursion is on June 7th. D. A. D. excursion on June 27th. Come and have a merry time.

F. E. RYAN,
10222 John R Street.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goupil has been made happy by the arrival of a baby-girl. She came April 3d, and has been named Elizabeth Jane Goupil. Their friends wish to extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Musladine were among those who attended the recent Silver Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. Stegner, which was tendered them by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. MacLachlan.

The affair war a most pleasant social event and we trust Mr. and Mrs. Stegner will not only remember it, but will also always appreciate the friendship of their many Detroit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rollins have just moved into a brand new house, hence the broad smile they are carrying.

The Guild Ladies of Ephphatha Mission will hold a picnic at Belle Isle Park, May 30th; Decoration Day. Everyone is welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rheiner entertained a few friends to a fine dinner May 24th. Among those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. MacLachlan, Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. C. Stegner.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. G. E. M. Nelson were guests a few days ago of Mr. and Mrs. Salmund Gabrielson, of Pontiac, Mich. They report having a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Musladine, of San Francisco, California, who have been sojourning in Detroit the past winter, are contemplating to return home some time in July. We understand they will go back by automobile.

Crossing the Rockies by moonlight is a most delightful pleasure, hard to portray in print. It is most awe-inspiring.

We hope the couple will long remember the many new friends they have made here. We think the change has done both of them good.

Judging from various remarks as we have picked up here and there a large crowd of the Detroit deaf will be Flintward bound June 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15. We wish all a most pleasant time and a successful session.

All aboard for Flint June 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15. Boys don't forget your sweethearts Make them happy. Girls, look your best, and you are sure to win more than once in everything you do while at Flint. Don't forget that. PANSY.

KANSAS SCHOOL.

D. T. CLOUD APPOINTED SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. Daniel T. Cloud, until recently superintendent of the Arkansas School for the Deaf, has been appointed superintendent of the Kansas School, the change going into actual effect on Monday, May 4th. Mr. Cloud comes highly recommended, having made an enviable record during his short stay in Arkansas and the friends of the Kansas School may rest assured that he is a man who is capable in every way—one who has the welfare of the children at heart, and there is no doubt but that he will make good.

Dr. Huffman, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Administration, made a special trip down to Little Rock to see the work that Mr. Cloud had accomplished, and after noting the wonderful strides the Arkansas School had made in such a comparatively short time, he was fully convinced that Mr. Cloud was the best man for the position which he now occupies. There is no need to go any farther into the life of the young man, who has all the earmarks of making a most efficient and able superintendent. Kansas is indeed fortunate in securing such a high class man for the place.

Kansas gains what Arkansas loses. Mr. J. White Thomas, who has for the past month filled the position as acting superintendent in a very capable and efficient way, goes back to his old place as teacher in one of our advanced classes. Now that everything in Kansas has been definitely settled, we can all buckle down to hard work and make the last lap—the home stretch—the best of all.—F. in Kansas Star.

Jeffersonian Decalogues

Among many decalogues spoken by Thomas Jefferson we have:

1. Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day
2. Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
3. Never spend your money before you have it.
4. Never buy what you do not want because it is cheap, it will be dear to you.
5. Pride costs more than hunger, thirst is cold.
6. Never repent of having eaten too little.
7. Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
8. If angry count ten, if very angry count one hundred.—Morriss Piper.

FANWOOD.

On May 16th, 1925, the Fanwood team played base ball with the Starlet and Van Vleck team on our diamond. Our team won by a score of 19 to 10.

On Saturday, May 16th, the deaf Order of Sir Galahad, of St. Ann's Church, N. Y., went to Curtis High, at Staten Island to compete with the hearing Courts of the same order, from Long Island, New Jersey, and other points nearby. Although we did not have very much success, we had a very enjoyable and beneficial experience, and hope to be able to compete in much better form in the meet of next year. Two or three of the boys won the letter "G," so that we at least did not come away empty-handed. Those who competed and went as visitors, were:—

Capt. A. Olsen, Lieut. C. Knobloch, Sergt. P. Blend, Serg. P. Schwing, A. Lander, F. Hoffman, C. Terry, R. Schneider, Mr. G. Braddock, J. Goodhope, W. Nixon, G. Harris, LeRoy Sloat, M. Ruthven and B. Atkinson, all of Fanwood and members of St. Ann's Church, with the exception of one P. Blend, who is a member of St. Rose Catholic Church.

Mr. G. Braddock treated the boys to luncheon and also helped those who were a little short on the evening meal. We wish to thank him for his treat and his aid throughout the day.

Last Wednesday morning, the 20th inst., Messrs. Joseph Worzel and Sam. Basheim were visitors in the JOURNAL office. Mr. Worzel is a physical director and a tutor at the 67th Street School.

In the afternoon of Wednesday, May 20th, Mr. Hague, from the Board of Education in Albany, N. Y., paid a visit of inspection. He was accompanied by Principal Gardner throughout the school and trades schools. In the evening they appeared in the boys' study room during the study hour.

Lieut. Lux took a small bunch of "little" boys and girls in his "Overland" auto for an enjoyable ride, Sunday last.

Sunday afternoon, May 17th, Sergeant Reitzler and Corporal Lynch were very much pleased to be in the presence of Judge Landis, President of the National League Association, while witnessing the ball game at the Polo Grounds.

On Wednesday last, Ascension Day, the Catholic boys and girls went to church. Four boys and four girls received Holy Communion. Then they went to the 22d Regiment Armory, where they partook of a very fine breakfast. It consisted of oranges, coffee, milk, bacon and eggs, rolls, candy, cake and ice-cream. After that, prizes were given out. Then the boys and girls played in the court. All had a very good time and gave their hearty thanks to the kind ladies and Father McCaffrey, who had fixed up the fine menu.—The Little Printer.

Saturday, May 23d, Mr. Carl Holland, who is boys' supervisor in the Florida School for the Deaf, visited this Institution. He expects to stay for one week to see the schools and the exhibition drills, etc. He spent Saturday afternoon with Cadet Lieut. Knobloch and saw the ball game held on our diamond. In the room of the Protean Society, he told about his school days in Florida.

The Florida School closed in early May according to custom.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, May 24th, Cadets Hicks and Atkinson were confirmed in St. Ann's Church. After the services Hicks, with his aunt and sister, and also Cadet Captain Olsen, rode in a "taxi" on their way home for supper.

On May 23d, 1925, the Fanwood team played baseball with the Colonial team. Fanwood won, by the score of the 6 to 4.

SEATTLE.

Next Saturday, at the Swedish hall on Eighth Avenue, comes off the long expected entertainment to be given by the younger people for the W. S. A. D. convention fund. A large attendance is looked for, and we hope for a substantial sum in hand, in spite of the rather large rent to be paid for the hall. Refreshments will be sold. Great secrecy has been maintained as to the program, and we are prepared to be greatly surprised and entertained.

The local Committee has come down to real work, and holds weekly meetings at which a good deal of business is dispatched. Seward Park, on account of its numerous advantages, has been selected for the July Fourth picnic. It has an immense new brick store, a large number of tables, convenient stores near at hand, excellent bathing in Lake Washington, rowboats and launches for rent, a public bath-house, where bathing suits can be rented, and many beautiful walks, as well as level ground convenient for sports. Hotels are now being listed, and the place for the banquet and opening reception will soon be announced.

We here announce the engagement of Miss Lillie Corey to Mr. John Burgett. Mrs. Corey is a widow of two years' standing, while Mr. Burgett's wife died about six years ago. So the many friends of the couple think it a fine thing that they should make a home together, as they are well suited to each other and of a pleasant and friendly disposition, which makes them both well liked. Mr. Burgett came from Minnesota two years ago, and has had steady work in a chair factory. He has a little home and some chickens and will be well pleased to have a wife in charge while he is at work. The wedding will take place in July.

The wedding of Miss Aleta Le Vassar to Mr. Ernest Fredericksen will probably be a June event.

Mr. True Partridge has sold his Indianola summer camp, and is glad to release the money he had put into it. He found difficulty in selling his lot at Manito Park, so traded it for one at Magnolia Bluff, and thinks he made a good thing in the trade. Magnolia Bluff is one of the magnificent view spots of Seattle, and a part of it is being developed by a Chicago capitalist, who is putting up forty residences to sell as an investment.

Miss Alice Wilberg, of North Dakota, who came to Seattle last December, has already seen a good deal of the country in and around Seattle, thanks to her friend and schoolmate, Oscar Anderson. Miss Wilberg is now a regular member of the choir at the services at St. Mark's, and her help is greatly appreciated.

A number of the boys are planning an auto trip to the State School at Vancouver over the holiday on May 30th.

A letter from Miss Diane Ingraham, of Spokane, says that her many friends will have the pleasure of seeing her at the convention in July. We wonder if she will again carry off the prize if we have a bathing beauty contest.

Mr. J. H. O'Leary says his coming to the convention depend upon Mrs. O'Leary's movements. If she makes a trip east he does not expect to be here. We sure do not know how we can get along without the magnetic personality of our big Jim, and we hope he will get here without fail.

On February 28th last there was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Tupper of Tacoma a seven and a half pound girl. Mrs. Tupper was formerly Urbana Cookson, of Seattle. The little girl is named Urbana after her mother. We had not heard of the birth of this baby, nor seen her at all since her marriage. So when we approached Trinity Church in Tacoma on the afternoon of May 10th, we were greatly astonished to meet gay and lively Urbana sedately wheeling a perambulator.

Jack Seipp writes from Chicago that he has just furnished a course in operating the linotype machine, and is now expecting a position outside Chicago. We wish him luck.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Key visited the Bodleys for the week-end recently, and took in the P. S. A. D. meeting. Mr. Key announced that his club, the Tacoma Association, would have a picnic on May 29th, and invited all to attend.

The consecration of Bishop Huston did take place on May 15th, and at St. Mark's, but at St. Mark's in San Antonio, Texas, and not in Seattle, as we had hoped. We were quite disappointed to miss the impressive ceremony. The new bishop will arrive in Seattle, June 1st, and reside on 16th Avenue.

John Hood, who has been tending a gasoline engine pumps for a logging donkey with the Buckley Log Company at Buckley, came to Seattle when the company closed down for the summer on account of the danger of forest fires. John Hood now has a good job laying hardwood floors.

Silent Cookson, weight 135 pounds is a professional boxer of Seattle.

Silent Burns, weight 122 pounds, is a professional boxer of Bellingham. A Bellingham newspaper, of March 5th, giving an account of a boxing Smoker has this to say of him: "Silent Burns boxed so cleverly that Frankie Marshall, of Anacortes, could not hit him solidly. But in return Burns failed to hit hard when he did land, and the decision was a draw."

Lawrence Pluck-ton is now at Bashan, Alberta, Canada, where he is working on a farm. On his way from Seattle, he stopped at Vancouver, B. C., to visit with relatives.

Bryan Wilson made a recent visit to his married sister in Anacortes. At the insistence of his sister, Wilson, has given up batch-ling and taken a single room apartment. He is with the city light company, and holds a very desirable job. He became an employee of the Puget Light and Power Company about ten years ago, through the influence of his father, a real estate man. Then when the city bought the street railway plant, Wilson retained his position, which is now a cinch. Wilson is considering getting a car to help him traverse the long distances in Seattle, as his job is out at South Park. He feels the need of a car especially now, as he is a member of both the local and program committees.

May 3d, Oscar Anderson visited his uncle in Everett and stopped en route at Alderwood Manor, where he found two young deaf brothers, Harry and George Oelschlagler, who have a chicken ranch and are making a success of it. Oscar says, however, that no one should go into the chicken business unless he has a capital of at least $2000 to back him, and the work demands the attention of at least two workers, so one can stay and tend the chickens while the other is away.

The Oelschlagler boys are from Minnesota. Many deaf in eastern states have contemplated locating at Alderwood Manor, which is famous for its five-acre chicken ranches, and some have actually purchased land there, but these Minnesota boys are the first we know of who have actually settled and succeeded there.

THE HANSONS.

The Post Office.

A letter, postcard, parcel, or newspaper, entering the mails is simply a piece of mail.

If, because of inadequate or incorrect address, and in the case of the package—improper wrapping—a piece of mail must be taken out of the regular postal machinery for "directory service" or "hospital service." It becomes a NIXIE.

If the postal sleuths are able to correct the address, or return to sender for a better one, it again becomes a piece of mail—though "delayed mail" is the better sobriquet.

If, after an exhaustive effort, the postal "detective" must give up the puzzle, and there is no return address, the piece of mail is consigned to the Dead Letter Office, where it again changes its name to dead letter or dead parcel, as the case may be.

Its period of existence as a Nixie is the most expensive one. It demands special attention from the very best clerks. Valuable time is spent in its behalf, time which also may prove more costly to the mailer or intended recipient through the attendant delay.

But in the long run, the postal service loses most. In Chicago 400 workers do nothing but handle nixies. In New York the service costs $500 daily. In all the nixie costs the government about $1,740,000 a year.

Deaf-Mute Loses Desperate Fight.

Louis P. Burell, 409 Baylor Street, a deaf-mute, scribbled on a piece of paper Monday noon, May 11th, and handed it to Detective Sergeant Hopkins. It related that he had been held up, beaten and robbed by two Mexicans while on his way home at 9 P. M. Sunday. They took $30.50 from his pockets after knocking him unconscious, he said.

From a chart of the scene of the holdup that Burell drew it happened between Laredo and Baylor Streets at a bridge over a small drain. Two men, one armed with a knife and the other with a pistol, accosted Burell as he neared the bridge and the one with the gun stuck it in his ribs. He grabbed the gun and wrestled it from the robber's hand as the other man with the knife jumped on his back and cut his hand.

Burell exhibited large bruises on his head and face, and cut on his hands where he had battled with the robbers. This is the second time Burell has been attacked by highwaymen in the last two weeks.—San Antonio Express.

XAVIER EPHPHETA SOCIETY NOTES.

The Xavier Ephpheta Society, or the due-paying members of that worthy organization, which has been the mainstay of the Catholic deaf of the Great City and nearby for so many years, went in and put one over May 16th, in the way of a social affair. Whist was the center of attraction, 16 tables accommodating the foursores that set-to in the Xavier H. S. Gym to do battle with the pastime of Hoyle.

The deaf were up with the hearing guests in the matter of corraling some of the acceptable prizes offered. Miss May Austria was the outstanding star of the evening. Her aides on the committee were Mrs. Jennie Morin, Mrs. John F. O'Brien, Miss Kate Lamberson, Joseph Graham, Joseph Denna, James Lonergan and Sylvester J. Fogarty.

The presence during the entire evening of Rev. Director John A. Egan, S.J., infected all with a "comfy" and homelike feeling, and with an incentive to do greater things for the growth and progress of the X. E. S. and any worthy movement among the deaf.

James Lonergan was the Grand High Totum as aide to Miss Austria, in the role of Ballyhoo. The ladies on the committee also tendered their best efforts to help their chairman. At the door, Joe Graham and Julius Kieckers divided honors taking in the cash and pasteboards. Joe Denna and "Red Top" Tom Daly aided materially in keeping the floor warm during the dancing that followed, for which music was provided at the piano by Mrs. Jack Gilligan, a sister of Senator Duinnigan, of the Bronx.

Ice cream and cake were served between dances, helping out in whetting the appetites of Ephphetas for other events to come. In the height of the festivities, Rev. Father Clark, S. J., Vector of St. Francis Xavier's, dropped in, nodded his approval, and added to the general good feeling.

X. E. S. Ex President Tom Cosgrove, now Chief Executive of No. 23, also joined in the merrymaking, and with him were his assistants, Secretary Stigliabotti and Treasurer Call.

The receipts of the affair will add quite a snug sum to the X. E. S. fund for aiding the sick, tendering relief and otherwise contributing to any worthy cause among the deaf.

On May 16th a surprise birthday party was extended to Mrs. J. Toohy, by the members of the W. S. D. and outside friends.

Mrs. Toohy was kept ignorant of the preparations. She entered the dining-room, amazed at the beautiful decorations and the huge birthday cake. Receiving the congratulations of those present with many useful gifts, she acknowledged with graceful signs her many thanks. Mrs. Heischob, who is accorded a lot of thanks for his success, was the principal cook for the menu, which was equal to that of a banquet. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Toohy, Mr. and Mrs. Blake, Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Westlake, Mr. and Mrs. Heischob, Mr. and Mrs. Gorr, Mrs. Rumpf, Mr. O'Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Schaumburg, Mrs. Eschert, Mr. Sunderhauff and Mr. Hitchcock.

The following is clipped from the New York American of May 20th:

Wee Anna Bilak will never know the music of birds, the rhythm of gurgling streams or the glories of opera, but—

A Jersey City jury found yesterday that her great loss was worth $12,500.

Anna is five years old. Last year as she played on the stairway of the apartment house at No. 40 West Nineteenth Street, Bayonne, N. J., where she lived, the railing broke and she fell to the flagstones below. She is permanently deaf from the fall. Her father sued Samuel Yogman, owner of the apartment house, for $60,000 damages and was awarded the smaller sum.

The jury also gave the father $1,500 as compensation for medical fees and attendance on the stricken child.

N. Y. N. A. D. BRANCH

The New York N. A. D. Branch held a meeting in the Chapel Hall of the Fanwood School, on Saturday evening, May 23d.

President Harry Gillen was in the chair, and Mr. G. Bradcock wielded the quill. Aside of reading the minutes of previous meeting, and Treasurer Frankenheim submitting his financial report, nothing much was transacted. He reported the treasury in a healthy condition—about $425.

The election of new officers was then in order. President Gillen appointed Mr. Marcus L. Kenner, inspector, and Messrs. M. Monlesser and Wm. Wren tellers.

The result of those elected, which is for a term of two years, is as follows: President, John N. Funk; Vice-President, Jack Ebin; Secretary, Miss Eleanor Sherman; Treasurer, Samuel Frankenheim. (Re-elected by acclamation.) Board of Directors, Dr. Thomas Fox, F. Marcus L. Kenner and Mrs. John N. Funk.

Rev. H. C. Merrill writes: "I hasten to inform you that there is a deaf man (by the name of Derrick), who is, with his wife, working his way east through the State, and who I think is headed for New York City. He is selling (?) some sort of jimcrack with printed literature, asking for assistance in making his living and calling attention to his deafness. I first encountered the pair in Rochester about a month ago. They told me they'd be in Syracuse soon, and I took steps to prevent their getting a license to peddle. Next I heard they were in Utica and Rome. Mr. Betts, the Superintendent of the Rome School, had a talk with the man and the Rome authorities refused him a license, but he was going the rounds in Utica, stopping at a good hotel. I've tried to block him in several places—Ilion, Herkimer, Amsterdam, Schenectady, Albany. He may go to Springfield, Hartford, etc., en route to Boston, or else come down and pay his respects to New York City. The man (and I think his wife too) was educated at the Indianapolis School; they appear to be really deaf; he is about as 'cheeky' as they come—made a remark about having the Rome Chief of Police arrested for interfering with his business! So look out for them."

Mr. Hyman Rubin was awarded a certificate for mural decoration of Industrial Art last Thursday night. He has been studying art at an evening school. Messrs. Max Harrison, Harry Belsky, Miss Ray Shapiro and her sister Sarah, witnessed the Twelfth Annual Exhibition of the Work of the Students of Industrial Art. Some of Rubin's art work was exhibited. He will study advanced art next September.

St. Matthew Lutheran Church wishes to announce that the confirmation of Lutheran Sunday School pupils will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 31st, at 3 o'clock sharp, at Immanuel Lutheran Church, 177 South 9th Street, Brooklyn, between Reobling Street and Driggs Avenue. Rev. Arthur Boll will officiate at the confirmation.

Hon. Henry M. Goldfogle, President of the Board of Taxes and Assessments of the City of New York, and a brother of Mr. Alexander Goldfogle, was one of the Grand Street boys, 900 strong, who had their annual beefsteak dinner last week at the Hotel Commodore.

Mr. Eugene Watson, Treasurer of the Church Mission to Deaf-Mutes, will take up a permanent residence in California in the Fall. He has served long, faithfully, and efficiently, and his going is quite a loss to the deaf. His successor will probably be Mr. Frederick H. Meeder.

Mr. Ben Friedwald for the past three weeks has been confined at home, due to an attack of the "flu," but is now able to be about again, and expects to go back to the "case" about June 1st.

Saturday morning, at 9:30 A.M., the Deaf-Mutes' Union League will play a match game with the Fanwoods. It is hoped all the players will report before 9 o'clock.

Mr. Abe Galland's mother is in a hospital, suffering from various ailments. She has gone blind and is in a precarious condition.

Seligman Gerson, as usual, will spend the summer months at Rockaway Park, beginning next week.

FOUND—A lady's cloth glove, in the chapel of the New York Institution for the Deaf, Saturday evening, May 23d, after the meeting of the Greater New York Branch of the N. A. D. Owner may communicate with J. N. Funk, 648 West 160th Street, New York City.

OHIO.

(News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 293 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.)

May 23, 1925.—John F. Heyl, a graduate of the school in 1869 and a resident of Columbus all his life, died Monday afternoon, May 18th, from complications and age, having passed his 77th year. He worked for a few years in the State bindery after graduating, and then took up painting and paper hanging. He was a fine workman, and being employed by leading firms, when there was fine work to be done.

Mr. Heyl never married and mingled little in the socialities of the deaf, because of his modesty. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, and burial was made in Greenlawn Cemetery. He leaves two brothers and four sisters, one of the latter, Mrs. F. Schwartz, is deaf also, the remainder all hearing. Mr. Heyl came from a pioneer family, of the city. His grandfather built the first hotel in the city, that was back at a time when Columbus was a small place. Now its population is near the 300,000 mark.

Members of the Silver Star Club, with Mr. and Mrs. Ohlemacher and Miss Zell, as chaperones, went up to the Y. W. C. A. Camp Friday afternoon and returned Sunday evening. The camp is about two miles south of the Home for Deaf, and Saturday morning quite a number of the girls with Mr. Ohlemacher hiked up there, others tramped about the woods where in the camp is located. They had visitors Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Winemiller, Principal Abernathy, Miss Sae Hoover, of the Domestic Science Department, Misses Durrant, Toskey, Rice, Lamson and others. The members of the club presented Miss Zell a $20 gold piece, as an appreciation of her efforts for them. She is to buy whatever she wishes as a keepsake, during her visit in Europe this summer.

A heavy rainstorm, accompanied with lightning, came up Saturday, about 8:30 P.M. It however had no terrors for the members as they were housed in cottages. All in all, the girls had an enjoyable time while there, made so by outdoor surroundings, stunts and eats.

Examination for Gallaudet College entrance were taken by these pupils, of the school this week: W. J. Hirth, Thelma Lamprecht, Bessie M. Lawson and Virginia Rice. They are a nice set, and we hope they have passed the ordeal successfully.

Miss Virginia Rice, who took examination for a typist position under the U. S. Civil Service Commission, passed successfully. She is waiting for an appointment. Meanwhile, she may take a State examination to hurry matters up, in cases she fails to reach the first.

CLEVELAND BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Borchert were surprised last Saturday evening with a birthday party at their residence. They were the recipients of many nice gifts, and the occasion was the first they have had in their whole lives, and also a happy one for all who were present.

They both are annual subscribers of one dollar towards the Ohio Home for Aged and Infirm people.

The same week witnessed another birthday surprise party, given in honor of Mrs. Christian Meyer, at the residence of her daughter. Mr. Meyer was the recipient of five silver dollars and some handy gifts.

The daughter supports the family fairly well by her skillful art of making paper flowers. She won a prize in the flower-making contest recently.

The proceeds of the Chicken Supper to be given at St. Agnes' Mission of the Deaf, 4718 Clinton Avenue, Saturday evening, June 13th, at six o'clock, will be used to carry on the work of Rev. Collins Sawhill's mission.

The first social ever held at the said parish was a bridal shower given Saturday evening, May 2d, in honor of Mrs. E. Major Hayer, who will again forsake the Forest City, to remarry Mr. Reed, of the Smoky City next June. The week after their planned wedding will be followed by that of their son.

The recipient was showered with congratulations and numerous beautiful gifts overflowing a laundry basket. Rev. Koehler was present and delivered a cheerful toast.

Mrs. Hayer was the chairlady of a successful bazaar, given last April towards the church fund. Almost $200 were realized.

Two benefit affairs came off on the same evening of April 25th. One was the C. A. D. held at the residence of Mrs. Hughes' handsome residence with its newly elected president, Mr. Fred C. Ross, and about twenty members.

The other social was held at Grace Lutheran Parish House, at 4827 Lexington Avenue. Pedro was the chief pastime.

The cleared proceeds will be used for the Lutheran Church building fund and to carry on Rev. O. Schroeder's mission.

Mrs. Laura McMill Bates is reported to be back at the City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Bard, of Willoughby, O., were the house guests of Mrs. R. Hemstreet for a few weeks, this past Spring. They accompanied their hosts on numerous motor trips, one to Oberlin, O., where they spent one day with Mrs. Albert Griffiths, (nee Mand McClintock).

Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Foster were wired recently to attend the funeral Mr. Foster's mother, Sarah Foster, aged 84, at Syracuse, N. Y. They spent two weeks visiting the points of interest and meeting deaf people, among whom were Rev. Merrill and his family.

Rev. Collins Sawhill delivered a good sermon, on "Mother," at Kinsman, last Sunday. It was well attended for such small sized town. There were 23 deaf people present.

Mr. James Madden was telephoned to his old home, at F. Wayne, Ind., to see his dying mother. As his mother recovered during his two weeks' sojourn, he took good advantage of his stay by getting up a benefit affair. The social was reported to be a success and the proceeds, many dollars, realized for the Indiana Home for the Aged Deaf.

PORTLAND, ORE.

A party from Salem motored down to call on friends in Portland recently. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom, Mr. and Mrs. M. Werner, Miss Marion Finch, Miss Lotus Valentine and Miss Ruth McKinnon, from Portland. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Linde, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Crenvill joined the Salem group, and all motored over to Vancouver, Wash., where they called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Divine. Others who called were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hunter, Miss Julia Dodd and Mr. Edwin McNeal. Mostly all were Gallaudet College graduates.

Rumors that Mrs. Pearl Bauer, of San Francisco, but formerly of Portland, committed suicide by jumping from an apartment, is without true foundation, according to latest report, but it is said Mrs. Bauer was injured by being struck by another lady, who leaped out of a window. This news is cheering to the deaf of Portland, who knows Mrs. Bauer well enough to know she would not commit such an act. Mrs. Bauer was formerly Miss Pearl Black before her marriage, and a graduate of the Oregon School for the Deaf.

A birthday party was given in honor Mrs. Lyle Fowler. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cooke, Mr. Thayer, Mr. E. McNeal, Miss W. DeLashmunt, Miss P. Lundy, Mr. and Mrs. Fowler, and Miss Lucille Wheeler. The affair was given at the home of the last named person.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Linde and family, with Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Nelson, as passengers in this new swell Chevrolet Sedan, motored up to Salem, Oregon, on Tuesday, May 5th, and called on the Lindstroms. After lunch all were conducted by Mrs. M. Werner, and visited the different classes and the different industrial departments of the Oregon School for the Deaf. The school is well controlled, and in such a neat and beautiful condition and well managed by Supt. O. L. McIntire. After the visit at the institution, Mr. Lindstrom and Mr. M. Werner invited all the visitors to take dinner uptown in a swell restaurant, where all enjoyed the eats, after which all went to Mr. Lindstrom's home for a short chat, until 7:30 P.M., when the Lindes and Nelsons returned home, satisfied that they had the best visit so far this Spring, and hope the Salem folks will all come to Portland for the big event from July 1st to 5th, when we will give our best effort to make the O. A. D. Convention the best Oregon deaf ever had.

The party on Saturday, May 9th, was a swell affair, under the auspices of the S. F. L. Proceeds from the party went to help the O. A. D. Convention fund. The event was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Cooke. About thirty-five attended.

The ladies of the S. F. L. Club met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Fisher, on Tuesday, May 12th, out in the University Park district.

Mrs. C. W. Lee is reported to be on the sick list, but nothing alarming.

The O. A. D. Convention will open with a reception and fine speaking on Wednesday night, at 7 o'clock, at the headquarters, in Al Azar Temple of United Artisans, corner 3d and Columbia Streets, entrance on Columbia Street. Any out of town deaf mute wishing accommodation should write to H. P. Nelson, 2829—62d, Street, S. E., Portland, Oregon, Chairman of Headquarters, and he will try to arrange for your comfort.

II. P. NELSON.

May 11, 1925.

Raymond Du Pont Oliver and Earl B. Hazler, both of New London, Ct., will go to New York City and attend the 5th Annual Fanwood Athletic and Track Games on May 30th.

OMAHA.

The annual entertainment and dance held under the auspices of the B. L. Club in the Nebraska School Saturday evening, April 18th, was a brilliant success. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with the club's color and there were several old time members present. A three-piece orchestra furnished the music and just before the party broke up ice cream and cake were served. The Fontenelle, an organ of the Fontenelle Improvement Club in the northern part of Omaha, near the school, had this to say: "To the ordinary reader this would be just a news item and rapidly passed by and forgotten, but when you know that the club is made of those who are deaf, and these same deaf boys and girls dance to music the same as you and I, and thoroughly enjoy it, it seems almost impossible, but this, we are assured, is the truth. Deaf people seem to either feel or see the music and dance in perfect harmony."

Malvin Gomme and Ray Anderson, who took a barber's course recently in one of Omaha's Barber Colleges, were unable to find an opening at present, so Mr. Gomme got a job at the Ford Motor Factory in the same department where A. L. Hurt works, and Mr. Anderson hiked over to Council Bluffs and secured a position in a planing mill.

Harold H. Christensen, better known among his school friends as "Harry," is now working as a draughtsman for the American Seating Co., in Chicago. His address is 1258 Early Avenue.

The Philomathean Literary Society of the Nebraska School held its annual dance May 2d. No outsiders were invited this year. The membership is so large that only the teachers and their husbands were asked. The teachers there have found a way of providing entertainment for themselves, families and friends. They have formed committees to plan and give some sort of doings each month. A wienie roast was held at Elmwood Park in April, and they claim that "hot dogs" of excellent pedigree quality, served hot off the bat.

All Souls' Mission gave a combination "500" and "Bunco" party at Trinity Parish House on Friday evening, April 24th. There were five tables for "500" and three for "bunco." The men outnumbered the ladies at "500," so Messrs. Treuke and Anderson substituted. Mr. Treuke won the ladies' prize while H. G. Long carried off the gent's. Riley E. Anthony and Mrs. John Marty were given the consolations. Mrs. John M. Thompson and Ora H. Blanchard won highest scores at "Bunco."

One of the largest crowds turned out at the party given by the Lutherans of Benson in the basement of their church on Wednesday evening, April 29th. Sam Goveia won first prize for dropping the most peanuts into a bottle. George Revers and Charlotte Barber first and respectively in "Jerusalem;" Robert Rodda for throwing clothes pins. There were two lines of people in a paper sack blowing contest that caused considerable amusement. Two teams were selected, one under Captain Edwin Hazel and the other under Captain James R. Jelinek, and the latter's team blew the most and received a stick of candy for each person. Refreshments were served a la cafeteria.

The Farmer's Party given by the Frats at Swedish auditorium, Saturday night, April 18th, proved an innovation, and there was a good-sized crowd, although many did not come in farmer's attire as requested. Chairman R. E. Dobson, E. M. Hazel, A. Getting and A. L. Johnson, were in charge and did their "darnedest" to make it enjoyable. Games were the feature of the evening. The writer was unable to attend, so can not give a lengthy description. Francis Jacobson won the prize in "Jerusalem," Oscar M. Treuke proved the best peanut roller; Robert G. Brown pinned a tail nearest to a donkey, and James Maccek embroidered the neatest shamrock. A number of articles were passed around under a sheet, and a prize was given to the person guessing the names of the largest number.

There will be a picnic on the Nebraska School grounds May 30th, from one o'clock in the afternoon till late at night. For 50 cents you get a "load of fun," eat 'n every thing. Come one! Come every body, and help swell the Nebraska State Association fund. If you want to do a lot for the welfare of the deaf and your community you need a lot of money, so come and bring your friends. A roaring good time is assured.

Great enthusiasm is looming up about the coming convention of the American Instructors of the Deaf, even among those who are not instructors and some who are "has-beens." We understand an excellent program has been outlined and aside from the business part a jovial good time is in store. Here's hoping a large crowd will attend and that it will turn out the best ever.

HAL.

GALLAUDET HOME

Up here the days are becoming warmer and warmer, and as the glass from the reception room, was removed today, May twentieth, and placed away up in the attic, for the warm season of the year, the folks will be out on the portico in full force hereafter.

The nurse, Mrs. Nadine, left here on the 28th of April, after being here for but a week, and on the 30th inst., Miss C. Lake came and took her place, and is here still.

Late on the afternoon of the third of May, a sedan car made its appearance in front of the portico, and to the surprise of all, its occupants were Mr. E. A. Hodgson, his two grandsons and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, who had motored all the way up here from their home down in the metropolis, to see the Home and its inmates for just half an hour. As soon as the visitors left their car they went into the dining-hall, where the matron found herself rather busy showing them the new tea wagon or truck. It is an iron framework vehicle with three rubber tired wheels, and bears two zinc pans, one above the other, each pan being 2x2 and four inches deep. All who use the vehicle say it is handy. I found that Mr. Hodgson's grandson, Edwin Hodgson Tucker, who was 17 years of age on the sixth of April last, was a little taller than I, he being five feet eleven inches. In the course of my brief conversation with Edwin, he said, among other things, that he was going to call again in the Fall.

During Mr. Hodgson's half hour visit, he was kept busy every minute with his fingers, talking to this and that person around him. His recent cruise down among the West India Islands seems to have done him a deal of good, for he appeared much stronger and more active than he was before going down there. As soon as the visitors boarded their car, the folks were called in to tea. Mr. Hodgson expects to make the Home another visit soon. We hope he will.

The cook, Miss Jane Miller, after being here a year and two months, left here on the 9th of May. On the 20th inst., Mrs. Mullen, of Rhinebeck, came to take her place.

During May the half brother of Mr. Samuel Gardner, Mr. Dodge Gardner, passed away in the Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie, where he had been suffering with an injured knee for about three months. He injured his knee by a fall some time before Christmas, blood poison set in, and so he died. He was about forty five years of age.

During the first two weeks of this month of May, the charwoman, Mrs. Palmer, was busy housecleaning. She has several grown up children, some of whom are married and have children, and yet she continues to be young and strong and well fitted for the work she does here. She lives with her husband and children on a 90 acre farm adjoining that of this Home. She it is who does the laundry work. She has been at her present post for the past several years, and is a faithful and untiring worker.

Emma, the chambermaid, who had been here for about nine years, left her place on the first of April, and on the sixth of that same month Mrs. Jenny Brooker was chosen to take her place. From the fact that this Home has had but little or no trouble whatever in the way of securing servants or solving the disgusting servant problem, it appears there are plenty of people out of employment. The servant problem seems easier to solve now than before the war. Before the world war, life was much easier than it is now. The high cost of living was then unknown and unthought of.

The Vicar of St. Ann's Church, Rev. J. H. Kent, was up here on May 7th. He thought and said Founder's Day will be on the sixth of June. Many of the inmates hope some of their good friends may be here to see them on that very occasion.

For some length of time, Mr. Fred C. Berger has been living in Peeks-kill, N. Y. For some eighteen years he lived in New Rochelle. He writes me and says he recently moved back to New Rochelle, because he was laid off quite often at the printing house where he was employed in Peekskill. His wife and children as well as himself are glad to be back in New Rochelle, because they were all so lonesome in Peekskill.

Walter Senack, a youth of nineteen, and the sole support of a mother, five sisters and a brother, left his job as one of Mr. Gardner's hired men, a month ago, and is now working over at the quarry, where he gets higher pay. The change was all for his mother's sake. All the children are still attending school. She lives down near Camelot. Walter had been working for Mr. Gardner for several years, at such time as he was not attending school, and as he was a most worthy servant, Mr. Gardner was sorry to part with him. His father was killed on the railway some months ago.

STANLEY.

PITTSBURGH.

The stork in making his last visit in deadforn favored the Ralph Freyers, leaving them a baby-boy. With this addition to the family Ralph will, of course, have to scratch deeper. More power to his nether extremities.

For the week-end of May 9th, Mrs. Walter Zelch had for her guest Mrs. Charles Sine, of Toronto, Ohio.

Mr. William F. Durian, old time Pittsburgher, but who has been living in Canton, Ohio, for the last ten years or more, is at present visiting with the W. L. Sawhills. Unless the writer is misinformed, he has left Ohio for good and is going to Hartford, Ct., to live with his son Walter.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Mr. Peter R. Graves and Miss Anna Rodgers, to take place June 24th. On the evening of May 16th, the couple were showered with gifts at a party. There were over twenty present. When the party broke up, taxicabs backed up at the place.

Speaking of taxicabs, the writer is reminded of the Post Office clerks banquet, held at the William Penn Hotel in honor of Hon. Clyde Kelly, who more than any one else was instrumental for the raise given the postal clerks. The writer asked one of the clerks if he was going to attend and received a negative reply, the reason given being that 11 P.M. was his last train to get home. It was suggested that such excuses no longer hold, since we now have the "taxi's"

The P. S. A. D. gathering at McGeagh Hall Saturday evening, May 9th, was a frost. The committee had expected to get some speaker of prominence to entertain, but it was found that every one asked had the date otherwise engaged. So it remained to some one present to supplant the hoped for speaker. Instead of one, many among them, Messrs. Leitner, Farke, Friend, Holliday, McArthur, Craig, Bards, Mesdames Leitner and Zelch, entertained with talks wise and otherwise.

The P. S. A. D. will hold a lawn fete on Saturday evening, June 13th, on the Holliday grounds 233 Meriden Street, Duquesne Heights. After stuffy indoor meetings throughout the cold months the opportunity to come together outdoors should be welcome. Not only will every one have the chance to have a good time, but also to show that he is a public spirited person, interested in the welfare of his fellow beings. The society should keep alive at all times, so come all and do you part in keeping it going. Take Mt. Washington car (No. 40) through tunnel, and get off at end of line. Inquiry of the cops at the corner will lead you to the place.

A sporty crowd from town attended the football game at Akron, Ohio, Saturday, May 9th. They were Sam Rogalski, W. McK. Stewart, Clifford Davis, Dominic Ross, Abner Harkless, Mrs. Joseph Jehovics and Margaret Kientz.

Two more would have been included, but for a mishap. George Cowan started with his motorcycle while Joe Jehovics comfortably reclined in the depths of the seat beside, but something went wrong with the machine as Beaver Falls was reached.

Fearing the machine was in no shape to endure such a long trip to and back from Akron, they decided to return. Together with three others of the crowd, Mrs. Jehovics had gone in Abner Harkless' Ford Sedan, and that was all the good time she got out of the trip, the rest of which was spent worrying what had become of Joe. Evidently Joe missed the service conducted by Rev. F. O. Snieland recently, when the subject of the sermon was "I did not think," or he would have sent his poor dear a telegram.

On the return trip from Akron, those in the Ford Sedan, which had a hole in the top, had a time trying to keep dry during a heavy downpour. Each took turns holding some sort of a plug in the hole. Only those on the front seat escaped the experience.

The dance, which was held for the benefit of next year's football team, was reported a great success all (except, of course, one) felt well repaid for the trip.

Jas. McGivern and Lydia Cummings, hearing daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Cummings were quietly married Monday, May 11th, and are now looking for a "nest." Evidently no looking was done before the leap! Here's hoping they pull themselves out of the discomforts of this overcrowded world and find their new life such that they will never for a moment regret the step they have taken.

Mrs. Audley Pitzer has been staying with relatives at Franklin, Pa., and Oil City for more than a month, convalescing from an illness that carried her close to death's door. Her recovery is nearing completion now, and she hopes to be back with her family and resume her household duties in two weeks, if not sooner.

FRANCIS M. HOLLIDAY.

Rochester News.

Miss Lotta Shattuck returned to Rochester from several months' stay with her parents at Cohocton, N. Y., March 21st. She is working at the Peabody, Clent & Company, which had moved from Court Street to Central Avenue. Lotta said Mrs. Coleman, of South Carolina, who had been wintering with her daughter, Grace, in Washington, D. C., would spend the summer visiting with her parents and Miss Halpen, who is boarding with the former.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerriek of Chicago, Ill., were in town for three weeks. Before it was too late, the deaf Rochesterians found out why they were in town. They could not do anything with the Jerrieks, since Mr. Jerriek had received a permit from the Chamber of Commerce to sell cards in town. The Jerrieks finally left town for big cities farther east.

Mr. Charles Gibbs, of Rochester, an aged deaf citizen, died March 16th, and was buried at Sodius, N. Y. He was a carpenter at the Graves Furniture Co. at the time of his death from asthma, which he had for years. Mr. Claude Smith, also a young deaf fellow, died April 3d, from burns he received several days before. In some manner his clothes were enveloped in fire and he becoming frightened, ran out of the house screaming, and before his neighbors could catch him, he was fatally burned.

The young deaf girls of the Y. W. C. A. held their second annual bazaar, at the Y. W. C. A. building all afternoon and evening, April 4th. A large sum of money was cleared off from the sale of many things the girls made.

Mr. Walter Schwagler, of Buffalo, came to town for a brief visit on April 5th. He informed us that Gleason Erb, who is very popular among his Rochester friends, was ill with pleurisy for several days.

Mr. J. Wilgren, of Jamestown, N. Y., returned home after two months, fruitless hunt for a position in town April 3d.

On April 3rd, a large number of the deaf Rochesterians showed up at the Rochester School, where the Boy Scouts of the same took part in some vaudeville sketches. The sketches being planned by the boys themselves, were full of fun, and everybody had a good time watching the show.

On April 6th, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rozelle and Anna (Trigg) Ackerman. The scribe has not learned what they have named their second baby. Their first born is a beautiful young child, who is attending the Rochester School in his second year.

Miss Jessie Ramsay entertained a number of her friends to a card party at Mr. and Mrs. Galle's home on Alexander Street, on Saturday evening.

Mr. Clayton McLaughlin and Mr. Gordon Leary are the latest Rochesterians to join the Frats.

Messrs. Le Grand Klock, Jr., and Yates Lansing are now living on Averill Street. They purchased a good Ford touring car recently.

The scribe spent the Easter holidays visiting with friends in the vicinity of Utica, N. Y.

Miss Rosella Greif came back to town from a long visit with her married sister in Cortland, N. Y., in April.

Mr. Paul Tuttle, of Niagara Falls, Ont., made a flying trip here from his home to visit with his friend, Fred Rosner, on April 19th.

On April 25th, at the Highland Hall, the Rochester Fraternal Division held its monthly social, this time known as "Fishing Social," managed by Ira Todd.

Ira, who never failed his friends with games, introduced many new games which won their hearts filled with desire to play. A large number of outsiders came to town for that occasion, and they were Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, of Albion; Messrs. Schwagler, Erb, Johncox, Ode, of Buffalo; Messrs. Morgan, of Hartford, Ct., and Ruthven, of Watertown, and Natali, of Batavia. During that evening the scribe had the surprise of his life, by a short call from Mr. John K. Cloud, who had come to Rochester from New York to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Todd, Misses Shattuck Myers, Ramsay, and Messrs. Samuelson, Dewitt, Slater, and Barnett went to Buffalo, to attend a surprise birthday party given in honor of Mr. Albert Ode, at his home on Andrew Street. A large gathering of friends was at hand, wishing Mr. Ode the happiest day of his life. He was presented with a beautiful gold watch and a white gold watch chain from his friends, on May 2d.

On May 8th, Lawrence Samuelson had his tonsils removed at the General Hospital and up to this date he has been improving very much.

Messrs. Fred Rosner and Carroll Merklinger departed for Philadelphia, Pa., in the former's car, on Wednesday of this week, for several days' visit.
